Crawford & Company® appoints Martin Allan as General Manager for Singapore

SINGAPORE – Chris Panes, Crawford’s chief executive officer for Asia, has appointed Martin Allan as general manager of its Singapore office effective January 1, 2015. Allan has been hired to support Crawford’s development across general insurance and affinity lines business in the Singapore market.

An experienced insurance industry executive and qualified ACILA adjuster, Allan previously served with one of the world’s largest multiline property and casualty insurers, where he held the position of regional head of consumer claims.

“The Singapore market is maturing but substantial opportunities still remain, and we are delighted to have someone of Martin’s experience to help deliver the Crawford suite of services to insurers, both established and new,” commented Panes. “Also, with our long-held relationships in London and international markets, we are well positioned to grow alongside our partners in Asia Pacific.”

“Martin Allan is an excellent addition to the Singapore management team,” adds Richard Martin, Crawford’s chairman for the Asia Pacific region. “With our Singapore operation occupying a strategic position overseeing the Asia region, I believe it’s a significant advantage for us to have someone with Martin’s experience to help us develop a greater capability in Singapore and through Southeast Asia.”
